

3rd Annual EarthWell Festival August 25 & 26, 2012

Lakeside at Jordanelle State Park, Park City, UT

Information: info@EarthWellFestival.org www.EarthWellFestival.org

877.500.6575

Questions: Chris Bachman 877.500.6575 x 700

(17 words / 131 char w/ spaces)

EarthWell, where the worlds of green sustainability and health and wellness come together. Learn more at www.EarthWellFestival.org.

(37 words / 286 char w/ spaces)

Just outside Park City, Utah, the EarthWell Festival is two days of lakefront, solar powered music, organic foods, green building demonstrations, holistic healing, nutrition, organic gardening, health, recreation, eco friendly products and more. Learn more at www.EarthWellFestival.org.

(80 words / 528 char w/ spaces)

Park City, Utah: The 2012 EarthWell Festival, Aug. 25 & 26, is a unique blending of green sustainability and health & wellness into a lakefront, outdoor village of white tents and colorful banners. Offering a world stage, streets with electric vehicles, parks lined with a 100+ shops selling eco friendly and wellness products, along with cafes serving organic foods, reclaimed art, even classrooms to educate you on your favorite subjects, EarthWell is a truly one-of-a-kind experience. Learn more at www.EarthWellFestival.org.

(147 words / 943 char w/ spaces)

The 3rd Annual EarthWell Festival occurs this August 25 & 26 outside Park City, lakeside at Jordanelle State Park. The festival is a unique 2 day event that brings together the best of sustainability and wellness into one beautiful outdoor venue, think Green Festival meets Renaissance Faire. Designed as a village of white tents, colorful flags and the requisite festival atmosphere, EarthWell offers organic cafes, world music, holistic healing and alternative medicine, electric cars and bikes, a Movement stage with hourly demonstrations along with green building and eco friendly products and services. The village is entirely solar powered and geared to be 95% recyclable. With activities ranging from reclaimed arts and crafts and kite flying for kids to drumming circles for seniors the event won rave reviews in 2010 and 2011 looks to be another experience to be remembered for all who attend. Learn more at www.EarthWellFestival.org.

(187 words / 1225 char w/spaces)

This August 25 & 26 the 2012 EarthWell Festival brings together the best of sustainability and wellness into one unique outdoor event. Lakeside at Jordanelle State Park, just 28 minutes east of Salt Lake City on I-80, the festival transforms several acres of grassy shoreline into a village of white tents with streets, parks, colorful flags and a festival atmosphere; think Green Expo meets Renaissance Faire. The EarthWell village offers organic cafes, world music, a movement stage featuring everything from ballroom dancing to karate, even large artwork made from reclaimed materials.

Explore holistic healing and alternative medicine, learn about green building, get medical tests, browse a 100+ shops offering eco friendly products and services, try introductory Yoga and Tai chi, even test drive alternative energy vehicles. Classes will be offered covering topics from sailing to kite flying, Green building 101 and self defense to Hormone Balancing and organic gardening. The village is entirely solar and wind powered and geared to be 95% recyclable. Activities from recycled arts and crafts for kids to drumming circles for all ages, promise an experience to be remembered. Learn more at www.EarthWellFestival.org.

(259 words / 1684 char w/spaces)

The 3rd Annual EarthWell Festival, outside Park City, Utah this August 25 & 26, is a one-of-a-kind event that brings together the best of sustainability, health and wellness into one unique outdoor venue. Just 28 minutes east of Salt Lake, at Jordanelle State Park, the festival transforms acres of grassy shoreline into a vibrant village with streets and parks, filled with white tents, colorful flags and the requisite festival atmosphere; think Green Expo meets Renaissance Faire. The EarthWell village offers organic corner cafes, a world music stage, kids' zone, parks, even pubs serving organic beers and wines.

Attendees can explore and experience holistic healing and alternative medicine, get conventional medical tests, try a variety of participatory classes from hula hooping to self defense, or browse a wide selection of green building providers, as well as a over 100 shops offering sustainability and wellness products and services, even an "auto row" of alternative energy vehicles. Numerous classes will be available covering topics from LEED Building 101 and Green Roofing to hormone balancing and nutritional cooking. The village is also entirely solar powered and geared to be 95% recyclable.

For the second year there is an emphasis on Electric Vehicles with many custom vehicles attending and information about EVs readily available from onsite experts and dealers of the latest hybrids and plug-ins. With activities ranging from recycled arts and crafts for kids to sailing and paddle boarding, kite flying contests, even drumming circles for seniors, the event promises an experience to be remembered for all who attend. Learn more at www.EarthWellFestival.org.